

ORIGINAL POETRY.

To One Who Will Understand.
Far out in the West, where the sun goes to sleep,
And the daughters of Atlas their lovevigns keep,
There's a green island set in a silvery sea, It is set like a gem on the breast of the sea.

All the Loves of the past have their home in that isle;
The soul of each kiss and the light of each smile,
And all the fond rapture that swells in the breast, Forever are warming that isle of the West.

Oh, come! will you go, will you go there with me?
I know you have loves in that isle of the sea;
For the kisses you left on your port-boy's mouth,
Were burning with passion like winds from the South.

A soft, dreamy luster shone deep in your eyes, As starlets half hid in the mist of the skies;
Your cheeks were aglow with the flame of your heart,
And as twin waves of wine were your lips when apart.

Come! come with your tresses all loose to the wind, Like Eve in the garden before she had sinned—
We will go, we will go to that island, tonight,
And we'll drink to the dregs from the cup of delight.

A Nut for Tax Croakers.

The money article in a late number of the New York Independent, contains the following summary of the benefits the war has conferred upon the country:

1st. Government is ten-fold stronger to-day than ever before.
2d. We are perfectly independent of any and every other power on earth.

3d. We have an army and navy, although hardly twelve months old, equal that of any other nation.

4th. The people, having already furnished $500,000,000 to sustain the government, find themselves stronger and richer than when the war began.

5th. Our government stocks have advanced ten per cent since the war commenced, and other securities in similar proportion.

6th. Money, which was raised a year ago at two or three per cent a month, is now only worth three or four per cent per annum.

7th. We have an abundance of food, at much lower than average prices, with splendid prospects for the coming crop, in every quarter.

8th. The wheels of business are beginning to start in all directions, and cheerfulness again prevails.

9th. Our farmers, manufactures, mechanics, and citizens are no longer idle. No distress is seen in any quarter.

10th. The people—the whole North—are more united, more courageous, and more determined than ever before. "Victory or death" is the universal cry.

11th. The whole financial and business aspects of the country, notwithstanding the enormous expenditures, are hopeful and promising.

12th. The people have a steadily increasing faith that the real prosperity of the nation demands the entire subjugation of the South.

The Laporte Herald says—A man was accidentally shot through the nose on the 22d ult., by some man who was shooting dogs. It was curious that he couldn't tell a man from a dog.

Facts for Poor Farmers.

Those farmers who have most difficulty to make both ends meet, always plough most, and keep most stock. Now, these men take the true plan to keep themselves always poor, because their crop and stock are always poor.
John Johnston, in a letter to the Secretary of our State Society, thus illustrates his statement: "It is good profit to raise three hundred bushels of wheat from ten acres, but when it takes thirty acres to raise that amount, it is a loss. So it is with cattle and sheep, you see the thinking farmer making four year-old steer worth from $60 to $80 each, and his neighbor's at the same age not worth over $25 to $40." His advice to the latter is: "If his land is exhausted, he should plough no more than he can thoroughly manure. Seed with clover and grass, and let it rest, and the field will not only pay well for tillage, but it will furnish manure, if rightly managed, to make another field of the same size rich also." And then keep it rich. Not run it with grain until again exhausted, or the "latter end of that land will be worse than the first.—Country Gentleman,

PROVIDENCE.—We are apt to believe in Providence so long as we have our own way; but if things go awry, then we think if there is a God, he is in heaven, and not on earth. The cricket in the Spring builds his little house in the meadow, and chirps for joy, because all is going so well with him. But when he hears the sound of the plow, a few furrows off, and the thunder of the oxen's tread, then the skies begin to look dark, and his heart fails him. The plow comes crunching along, and turns his welling bottom side up, and as he is rolling over and over, without a home, his heart says, "O, the foundations of the world are destroyed, and everything is going to ruin!" But the husbandman, who walks behind his plow, singing and whistling as he goes, does he think the foundations of the world are breaking up? Why, he does not so much as know there was any house or cricket there. He thinks of the harvest that is to follow the track of the plow; and the cricket too, if he will but wait, will find a thousand blades of grass where there was but one before. We are all like the crickets. If anything happens to overthrow our plans, we think all is gone to ruin.— Beecher.

If an editor omits anything he is lazy. If he speaks of anything as they are, people are mad.
If he glosses over, smooth down the rough points, he is bribed.
If he calls things by their proper names, he is unfit for the position of editor. If he does not furnish his readers with jokes, he is a mullet. If he does he is a rattle head, lacking stability. If he condemns wrong, he is a good fellow, but lacks discretion. If he lets wrong and injuries go unmentioned, he is a coward. If he exposes a public man, he does it to gratify spite—is the tool of a clique, or belongs to the "outs." If he indulges in personalities, he is a blackguard—if he does not, his paper is dull and uninspired.

The total distribution of the Common School Fund for May, 1862, for Marion county, amounts to $16,997.77, which, according to the enumeration on children of suitable age to attend school, 12,881, gives to each about $1.31 cents.

REAPERS.

THE FARMER'S FRIEND.

J. H. MANNY'S

Reaper & Mower Combin'd

SAVE YOUR MONEY!

Save your time! save your team! save your lodged and down grain! save your harvest to perfection! It is simple in construction, so that any body can rig and unrig it, and the absence of complication renders it less liable to break or get out of working order. It cuts the fastest, the easiest, the cleanest and closest of any other Reaper and Mower.
